Shipping high-sensitivity and high-cost goods like taxidermy trophy mounts and fine art is a process that requires the skill and experience that Freight Solution Providers offers. Other companies charge a very high fee to transport your finished work to the customer, while they simultaneously have unacceptably high damage rates. FSP specializes in transporting highly sensitive freight damage-free at a competitive price, a combination you won't find anywhere else.

When you ship your high-sensitivity goods to your customer with Freight Solution Providers, you have the benefit getting the most competitive rates in the industry. FSP has been providing secure services for sensitive freight for 22 years, and our experience means your freight will arrive on time, secure, and most importantly, damage free.
